

Biden decides to give the WHO authority over U.S. sovereignty

Global bureaucrats to be able to demand vaxes, lockdowns, surveillance, more

By Bob Unruh

Published February 20, 2023 at 4:43pm

The World Health Organization, a subsidiary of the United Nations run by a team of bureaucrats in Geneva, soon could have the power to dictate lockdowns, vaccination mandates, social distancing and much more in the United States.

Joe Biden delivers remarks on recent unidentified aerial objects, Thursday, Feb. 16, 2023, in the South Court Auditorium of the Eisenhower Executive Office Building at the White House. (Official White House photo by Adam Schultz)

A new report from the Epoch Times explains Joe Biden is getting ready to sign the U.S. up to a "legally binding" deal that would give international politicians authority to make decisions for America during a pandemic.

And he's maneuvering so it won't require approval by the U.S. Senate.

The report explained, "U.S. Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra joined with WHO Director-General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus in September 2022 to announce 'the U.S.-WHO Strategic Dialogue.' Together, they developed a 'platform to maximize the longstanding U.S. government-WHO partnership, and to protect and promote the health of all people around the globe, including the American people.'"

That's resulted in a "draft" of a plan that "seeks ratification by all 194 WHO member states. A meeting of the WHO's Intergovernmental Negotiating Body (INB) is scheduled for Feb. 27 to work out the final terms, which all members will then sign," the report said.

It would give the bureaucrats who follow the U.N.'s political agenda the authority to "declare and manage a global pandemic."

All signatories would have to abide by the rules those bureaucrats would decree, including "lockdowns and vaccine mandates, global supply chains, and monitoring and surveillance of populations," the report said.

"They want to see a centralized, vaccine-and-medication-based response, and a very restrictive response in terms of controlling populations," David Bell, a former WHO bureaucrat, said in an interview with the Epoch Times.

"They get to decide what is a health emergency, and they are putting in place a surveillance mechanism that will ensure that there are potential emergencies to declare."

Millions of Americans refused to submit to the vax programs imposed by the U.S. government during COVID-19, despite the open efforts by the government, health officials and drug makers to suppress information about treatments other than the experimental shots.

The premise for the entire project is that the WHO plan would "supersede" the laws of member states.

Francis Boyle, professor of international law at Illinois University, charged to the Epoch Times both ideas are "fatally dangerous."

"Either one or both would set up a worldwide medical police state under the control of the WHO, and in particular WHO Director-General Tedros. If either one or both of these go through, Tedros or his successor will be able to issue orders that will go all the way down the pipe to your primary care physicians."

Added Meryl Nass, a physician, "If these rules go through as currently drafted, I, as a doctor, will be told what I am allowed to give a patient and what I am prohibited from giving a patient whenever the WHO declares a public health emergency. So they can tell you you're getting remdesivir, but you can't have hydroxychloroquine or ivermectin. What they're also saying is they believe in equity, which means everybody in the world gets vaccinated, whether or not you need it, whether or not you're already immune."

The surveillance and monitoring components of the plan would make sure there are few, in any, who disagree with the bureaucrats successfully.

The plan probably would have to get permission from the Senate eventually, but it contains a provision allowing it to be locked in on a provisional basis.

The Joe Biden administration already has talked about its plans to make sure that social media companies are given government narratives – and that they must be the only messaging allowed.

GOP members in Congress have had enough and are openly planning a way to take the U.S. out of the WHO entirely.

"The Biden regime never fails to orchestrate an avenue to circumvent the U.S. Constitution and betray the American people. A bombshell report from the Epoch Times Saturday reveals the Regime is about to surrender America's sovereignty to the World Health Organization (WHO) and give them full control over future pandemic policy."

It continued, "Once America officially signs on to this agreement, we will be completely at the mercy of the globalist organization which helped the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) cover up the original COVID-19 outbreak in Wuhan."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Long the world's most Christian nation, America today is being taken over by a new "official" national religion, one being imposed on the entire populace by every major societal institution, from government, media and big tech, to academia, entertainment and business.

This new state religion is Wokeism. “Going woke” conjures up visions of someone claiming to be acutely sensitive (“awake”) to “systemic social and political injustice.” And not just alleged bigotry against blacks, but toward every other “minority” as well, from LGBT folk – especially everything transgender and “nonbinary” – to “undocumented immigrants.” All of them, being VICTIMS, intrinsically more virtuous than the shameful oppressor class: primarily heterosexual white males.

This new “woke” consciousness has turned America upside-down – from the nationwide Antifa and Black Lives Matter riots in 2020, to tearing down of historic monuments, to demanding multi-million-dollar reparation payments for blacks, to appointing transgenders as top government officials, to rampant reverse discrimination in every area of life, to the U.S. military imposing mandatory “diversity training” and transgender pronoun use on all personnel, causing recruitment to disastrously plummet.

Retrieved April 18, 2023, from Biden decides to give the WHO authority over U.S. sovereignty \(wnd.com\)